The Institution extends a warm welcome to IET members and their guests and hopes your time at IET London: Savoy Place is both enjoyable and productive. The Institution has introduced the following Terms of Use for facilities at Savoy Place, which are known as The Faraday Centre, to help ensure that this is the case for everyone.

THE FARADAY CENTRE - TERMS OF USE BY MEMBERS

These guidelines outline responsibilities and provide guidance for IET members wishing to use these facilities. The facilities should be used in a manner that is legal, fair, and appropriate and not to the detriment of others.

These terms of use extend to IET members and visitors. Members’ guests may access the Faraday Centre but not access member only benefits.

Savoy Place is open for members and guests as follows:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Faraday Centre</th>
<th>Monday to Friday</th>
<th>8.30am to 6.30pm</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Faraday Kitchen</td>
<td>Monday to Friday</td>
<td>8.30am to 6pm</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Knowledge Centre &amp; Library</td>
<td>Monday to Friday</td>
<td>9am to 5.30pm</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

IET members benefit from the following:

- Free use of the tea and coffee station
- A discount of 10% on freshly prepared products in the Faraday Kitchen
- A discount of 20% on other bookable rooms where a charge is levied
- A limited number of devices are available to assist members in their research
- A limited amount of printing/photocopying is available

*Free for members only for up to 2 hours per day and twice per week subject to fair use policy. Pre-booking advised

*The above IET member benefits are for members only, not their guests or independent visitors.

- Savoy Place is closed at weekends, bank holidays and between Christmas and New Year. We may also amend opening hours on an occasional basis. These amendments will be advertised in advance.
SECURITY

- Members are required to comply with the security arrangements in operation throughout IET London: Savoy Place. Members visiting the Faraday Centre are required to sign in and out electronically via the registration desk and wear a member's lanyard. This can also be achieved by using a QR Code that may be printed on your membership card. Please note that QR codes need to be renewed annually.

- Guests of members are required to sign in and out at the Faraday Centre registration desk and wear a visitor badge and lanyard. Please return them at the conclusion of the visit.

- Members are responsible for their guests who should not be left unaccompanied.

- Members are responsible for their own personal belongings and must not leave such items in meeting rooms, at tables or in the lounge. Items left unattended may be removed. Lockers are provided for members to use within the Faraday Centre. Items can be left in lockers during the day, but not overnight. All lockers will be emptied by security at 6.30pm.

- Members can meet up to five guests within the Faraday Centre when holding a meeting in the members lounge or meeting spaces.

REFRESHMENTS

- The tea and coffee station is complimentary for IET members only and it is provided to be consumed within the Faraday Centre. Guests of members may purchase coffee/teas in Faraday Kitchen. Please report any problems regarding the coffee machine to Faraday Kitchen.

- Members may pre-book tables in the Faraday Kitchen (in the Brasserie) for lunch when dining from the 2-3 course à la carte menu. Groups can include members and guests with a maximum table size of eight (including the member). Pre-ordering may be required for parties greater than six.

- The 'grab and go' and hot dish of the day lunches do not require table bookings. The Faraday Kitchen should have sufficient space to accommodate these visits; however tables are first come first served. Please note that the Brasserie tables are only available with confirmed bookings and guests are requested to order from the à la carte menu.

- We request that hot food is not consumed in the lounge areas and communal tables, this reduces the risk of spillages and the smell disturbing other members who are studying or networking. No food should be consumed in the Knowledge Centre.

- Members receive a 10% discount on freshly prepared food in the Faraday Kitchen. This does not include confectionery, snacks, soft drinks or alcoholic drinks.

- Food and drink items delivered to a meeting room are for the use of invited participants only.

- Members and guests must not bring their own food and drink into Savoy Place without prior agreement. External catering is not permitted.
TERMS OF USE

BEHAVIOUR AND CONDUCT

- Members are asked not to commit any disturbance, damage or interference to the premises or meetings being held at Savoy Place and are required to comply with all reasonable requests of IET Staff. Members must respect other people's privacy and be considerate when making phone calls or using video conferencing.

- All members must agree to abide by the Rules of Conduct. Members re-affirm their commitment to the Rules through the annual renewal of their membership. The Rules of Conduct are defined by members for members and are reviewed regularly to ensure they remain relevant.

- Persons in any category of membership shall at all times uphold the dignity and reputation of their profession, act with fairness and integrity towards everyone with whom their work is connected, and towards other members and safeguard the public interest in matters of health, safety, the environment and otherwise.
— Persons in any category of membership shall, in addition, exercise their professional skill and judgement to the best of their ability and discharge their professional responsibilities with integrity. They shall encourage the vocational progress of those in their professional charge

— Members are responsible for all activity on the Faraday Centre laptops / tablets which is initiated during the time they are using them
— Faraday Centre laptops / tablets are provided to enable members to access the IET website, other engineering-related websites and to check their email. It is not a facility for members to run their own businesses from (eg consultancies)
— Data is cleared from the hard drives of all laptops / tablets at the end of each day
— Members must act in a manner that will not damage the computer facilities (hardware, software, and data) nor disrupt any services. Any accidental damage or disruption must be reported to Faraday Centre Reception as soon as possible
— Members must comply with the provisions of the General Data Protection Regulation (EU) 2016/679 (as applicable), the Privacy and Electronic Communications (EC Directive) Regulations, and codes of practice issued by the Information Commissioner from time to time (all as amended, extended, re-enacted or replaced from time to time)
— To minimise security risks members must not upload or download software onto the Savoy Place computer systems
— Members should consider all information accessed via the laptops / tablets as private. The ability to read or alter information accessed does not imply permission to do so. Members must not read or alter information without explicit permission
— Other than for lawful research purposes, members must not use the computing facilities for the creation, display, production, or propagation of material which falls into the following categories:
  — grossly offensive
  — indecent
  — of a menacing nature
  — or intended to mislead or misinform and thereby cause annoyance, inconvenience, or needless anxiety in another
— Much of the software used on the computer systems is copyrighted and is used under license agreements. Members must not take copies of or modify licensed software unless authorized to do so
— The use of the Savoy Place computer facilities or Faraday Centre laptops / tablets for commercial gain is not permitted
— Complimentary printing and photocopying is available up to a maximum of 5 pages per member per day either in A4 or A3. Larger volumes of printing can be made at a small fee per sheet
— The IET reserves the right to suspend access to the computer facilities pending investigation of an alleged breach of these guidelines. The IET reserves to right to review the usage of IET laptops / tablets
HEALTH, SAFETY AND FIRE INSTRUCTIONS

- Fire Exits are to be used in an emergency only
- Members are required to acquaint themselves with the Fire Evacuation Procedure and pass this information to their guests. Fire instructions and fire escape routes are displayed throughout the venue. If in doubt please seek advice from a member of staff.
- In the event of an emergency evacuation members should leave the building by the nearest exit and make their way to the assembly point underneath Waterloo Bridge
- In the event of an emergency invacuation members and their guests should go to the Turing Lecture Theatre located on the 2nd floor and follow the instructions from IET staff
- Fire exits and routes must not be obstructed
